BATTLE OF ELEMENTS

Pittsburg Visited by a Cyclone and Rainstorm.

SEVERAL FATALITIES RESULT.

Rainfall Registered 1.33 Inches in the Course of a Few Minutes Downpour. Trees in a Neighboring Grove Were Twisted and Snapped Off Like Pipestems. Many Churches Unroofed.

PITTSBURG, July 28.—A wind and rainstorm of unusual fierceness visited this city at 4:30 last evening, causing the loss of at least three lives and doing immense damage to property. Several dwellings were completely demolished and others partially wrecked. Eight or 10 churches had their roofs blown off and otherwise damaged. Telegraph, telephone and electric light poles were snapped like pipestems, mixing the wires in an inextricable mass in the streets, making travel in many sections of the city impossible. Fierce lightning and high wind accompanied the storm, or rather two storms, for Pittsburg and Allegheny was the meeting place of one storm from the west, which came up the Ohio valley, and another from the east, which followed the course of the Allegheny river. Such a battle of the elements is rarely witnessed. In East Pittsburg and Wilmerding hail fell in large quantities, the stones being quite large.

In the first five minutes of the storm .58 of an inch of water fell and the wind reached a velocity of 30 miles an hour.

At 8 p. m. another storm almost as fierce as the first came up and .68 of an inch fell, making a total of 1.33. The rivers are now rising and another flood is expected.

Among the casualties reported is an accident to the camp of the Eighth Ward hunting and fishing club of Allegheny. The club was at its camp in Sugar Grove, about four miles up the Allegheny river, when the storm came up. The members say it was a genuine cyclone. The trees in the grove were broken and twisted as though they were weeds and one large sycamore, 30 feet in circumference, was snapped off near the ground and fell upon the tent of the campers, killing almost instantly John Figs, broke the back of George Miller, who will die, and seriously injured Thomas O'Connell, Charles Vosaick, Jacob Metz, Frank Ott and Harry Haddie.

On Greenfield avenue, in the East End, Joseph Ashfelder was killed by a sign being blown down, striking him on the head.

At McKees Rocks, where Professor Gerodette, curator of Carnegie museum, had a gang of men at work digging an old Indian mound in the interest of science, lightning struck the shed under which the party had taken refuge, shocking one of the laborers, an old man, into unconsciousness, also a young man by the name of Pool, son of a college professor, both of whom will probably die.

The result of the storm in property damage has not all been gathered in, but it is known that all through Allegheny, the South Side and the East End, many houses were unroofed, signs blown down and windows broken. Along Penn toward Homewood, where many fine suburban mansions are located, the splendid lawns are completely destroyed and the beautiful and ornamental trees ruined. It is estimated that $100,000 will hardly cover the loss in this locality alone.

Reports from outlying towns tell of much damage to houses and other property, but no lives lost so far as known. In Allegheny 12 people were struck by lightning. They are in the hospital and considered by the physicians to be in a critical condition.

The names are: Abner Hays, freight receiver of the Fort Wayne railroad; A. M. Bennett and three children, August Snedtz, his wife and four children. Mr. Hays was sitting in the house door when a bolt of lightning struck the building, knocking Mr. Hays unconscious. Mr. Bennett and his children were standing on their porch on St. Clair Terrace, when a flash was conducted from a trolley wire in front of the house to the porch, prostrating the entire party. The Snedtz family were eating supper when lightning struck the residence, following the chimney flue to the dining room. About half an hour later a neighbor discovered the whole family lying on the floor in an unconscious condition. The may recover, but it is doubtful.

In Pittsburg reports of damage to property is still coming in. On Washington street two houses, a machine shop and the Fifth U. P. church were blown down and completely ruined, but fortunately no one was injured. The row of houses belonged to the Denny estate and had been condemned and the tenants had removed from them. The Centenary M. E. church, on Kirkpatrick street, had its roof and steeple carried away by the wind, the bells from the tower were thrown to the ground and broken.

The roof of the John Wesley chapel, A. M. E., was torn away and carried 200 feet. The Pittsburg high school and Holy Ghost college suffered somewhat, but are not badly damaged.

Returns from the different sections of the two cities show 25 or 30 people injured more or less by falling trees, roots, signs, etc.

SIoux CITY, Ia., July 28.—Fuller reports of last night and today's storm have been coming in. The loss is inestimable all over northwestern Iowa, northeastern Nebraska and southeastern South Dakota. Within an area extending one mile south, three east, 16 west and eight north of town standing grain everywhere suffered from five to 10 bushels to the acre, and in many cases was totally destroyed. In the town itself many buildings were injured and scarcely a whole pane of glass remains. In Plymouth county, Grant, Fredonia, Meadow, Elgin and Preston townships sustained the greatest loss. Roofs were beaten through by the force of the hail, considerable stock killed and the ground literally strewn with dead hogs and poultry. The heaviest losses was to corn, which was beaten completely to pieces. In Sioux City the loss is heavy, many buildings being ruined. The estimated damage is $200,000.

TRAVEL BLOCKED.

A Destructive Storm Sweeps Over Southern Michigan.

DETROIT, July 28.—A destructive storm swept through the southern portion of the state. The most alarming reports come from Homes, Calhoun county, in the vicinity of which great damage was done to farming property. Farmhouses are reported overturned and wrecked, barns thrown down and all crops laid low. The wind and rain followed the storm which was so severe that it has interfered with both telegraph and telephone service and it is practically impossible to receive definite reports.

The storm was very severe. Fully two inches of rain fell inside of three hours, doing considerable damage by flooding the basements of business houses. The electrical display accompanying the rain lasted from 7 o'clock to midnight and made the heavens as light as day. Every streetcar road in the city suffered and scores of fuses were burned out, blocking travel.

Tree Crushed His Skull.

NEW YORK, July 28.—A storm swept over this city last evening accompanied by heavy thunder and a brilliant display of lightning. The maximum velocity of the wind was 50 miles, but this only lasted for five minutes. Rain fell for three hours, the total precipitation being one-third of an inch.

A house on the Harlem river, in which was the switchboard for the Western Union company's wires, which run under Harlem river, was struck by lightning, and all wires east and west were rendered useless.

The storm between here and Philadelphia cut off many of the southern wires, and for a short time communication with the outside world was much hampered. Charles F. Siegle, a clerk, was killed in Eleventh street by a tree falling on him, crushing his skull.

Columbus Visited.

COLUMBUS, O., July 28.—At 7:20 last evening a severe windstorm, followed by a heavy rain, struck this section, attaining a velocity of 45 miles. The gale came from the north, following in the main the valley of the Scioto river. In the country corn and other crops were blown down and trees uprooted. In this city several roofs were blown off and the damages amount to several thousand dollars. Half of the roof of the Brown Manufacturing company's building was carried across Town street and over two houses, a distance of 100 yards. So far as reported no lives were lost.

Milwaukee Flooded.

MILWAUKEE, July 28.—Two severe storms swept over the eastern portion of the state Sunday night. This place was struck by lightning and much damage has been done. There was a small cloudburst over this city and the rain fell in such quantities that the streets are filled with water and cellars in the downtown district are flooded.

FLOOR FELL,

Burying a Half Dozen Men in the Debris. Two Will Probably Die.

CHICAGO, July 28.—While workmen were clearing away the debris in the recently burned Diamond Match company building, on Michigan avenue, the supports of the first floor gave way, burying a half dozen men under the heavy timbers. A dozen others fell to the ground floor in the midst of the debris. There were 25 men at work in the building and they sprang to the rescue of their comrades. An alarm of fire was turned in, but the men had been taken out before the arrival of the department.

The following are the injured: Frank Bechell, seriously crushed; Henry Bergan, crushed about body, may die; Otto Reese, internally injured, may die; Peter Romero, seriously cut and crushed.

Youthful Lover's Crime.

MARYSVILLE, Kan., July 28.—John Selvage, a young farmer, shot and killed the 13-year-old daughter of David Hoffman, a farmer, and then killed himself, near the little town of Afton, 10 miles southwest of here, on Saturday night last. The girl's parents had forbidden her to keep company with Selvage. The murderer left a letter in which he stated that he could not live without the child and that her parents were turning her against him, after having encouraged his attentions at first.

A Suicide Because of Cancer.

RICHMOND, Ind., July 28.—William Corwin, 68 years old, a citizen of Dublin, of this county, killed himself yesterday by shooting a bullet through his head. He had been suffering from a cancer on the face, which was slowly eating his life away. Corwin was in good circumstances. He leaves a wife, but no children.

AWAITING HIS DOOM.

Romie Cotell Placed in the Penitentiary Annex.

REWARD PAID TO MISS ALLEN.

The Woman Detective Read Scripture and Hinted at Love and the Youthful Murderer Told Her All—Cleveland Strikers Win a Great Victory—Rev. Hypes Dead. Other Ohio Dispatches.

AKRON, O., July 28.—Romulus Cotell was taken to Columbus yesterday under sentence to be hanged Nov. 6, for the Stone family murder. He was secretly driven to the South Akron depot, but a large crowd gathered before the train left. He laughed and talked merrily, and declared he would never hang.

Miss Lillian Allen, or "Marion Archer," as she preferred to call herself, the Cleveland woman detective, who fascinated Cotell and drew from him a confession of the Stone family murder, got her $1,000 from the county commissioners and quietly slipped out of town.

She said she had gained lots of unenviable notoriety and was ill paid. She said that she first saw Cotell Sunday, April 6, although she came to Akron the day previous and called at the jail.

"I went to his cell with a number of women who conducted religious services," said Miss Archer, "in which I assisted. The boy seemed to take a liking to me, and after that I called quite regularly. He soon placed great confidence in me."

"What do you suppose caused him to trust you so implicitly?"

"Well, I'll tell you," answered the woman detective, with a twinkle in her eye, "I won him by religion. I read the Bible to him, prayed and all that sort of thing. He confessed the whole crime to me on my third visit to the jail; then I kept on going, hoping to find the missing articles of underwear."

"Miss Archer, did you ever make love to Romie?"

The pretty detective seemed a bit annoyed at this question, and flushed slightly. She replied that she did not care to answer. "I will merely say," she added, "that I told Cotell we would talk over that matter in all its details after he had been cleared and was out of jail. We detectives, you know, can't always choose our methods."

She says Cotell has written a history of his life and that it is in her possession.

Cotell's attorneys, in order that they might shape their future course, made a last desperate attempt to force a confession of guilt from their client. Attorney Voris, his law partner, L. S. Pardee, went to the jail and remained for an hour. They took turns in questioning and threatening the boy, but all to no purpose. He seemed to be more downcast and discouraged when the talk ended than he had been at any time since his arrival, but he protested his innocence at every breath and did not make a single damaging admission. He has always denied his guilt to his attorneys.

AT AN END.

Cleveland Workmen Seem to Have Got the Best of It.

CLEVELAND, July 28.—The long-drawn-out strike of the employes of the Brown hoisting and conveying works, which was inaugurated nine weeks ago and has resulted in a series of bloody riots, is at an end, a satisfactory settlement between the company and the representatives of the employes having been reached yesterday. The terms of settlement have not been made public, but it is known that the company concedes all the main points contested for. All old employes are to be reinstated regardless of any part they took in the strike. The announcement of the termination of the struggle caused wild scenes of enthusiasm at the hall of the lockedout men. Grand Master O'Connell said that it had been the hardest fought and cleanest all around victory for labor that had taken place in many years.

Prisoner Throws Stones.

DELAWARE, O., July 28.—Prisoner Frank McCoy threatened Sheriff Thrall's life Sunday night, and when the sheriff closed with him threw a rock, cutting the sheriff's right temple. After the unruly prisoner was forced into his cell a second round was fought. McCoy threw another brick, missing the sheriff and mashing Deputy Griffith's nose. McCoy is not yet conquered, but threatens the man who dares enter his cell.

Hulick and Weaver.

BATAVIA, O., July 28.—The Hulick and Weaver family reunion will be held at the Boston fair grounds Thursday, Aug. 6. This reunion will doubtless be the largest ever held in the state, the relatives alone numbering 1,500. Hon. J. M. Pattison, Hon. G. W. Hulick and other prominent speakers will be present.

Corn Under Water.

PORTSMOUTH, O., July 28.—River 39 feet and stationary. Much damage has been done in the last 48 hours. About 20,000 acres of corn in this county is under water. The outlook was good for a yield of from 50 to 100 bushels to the acre. This makes the loss very great.

A Lad Drowned.

BLANCHESTER, O., July 28.—Fred, the 8-year-old son of Alonzo Allen, fell headlong into a well at Liddle's brickyard and was drowned yesterday.

COAL MINING AT CLINTON.

The Miners Are Given Work at Fifty-Five Cents Per Ton.

CLINTON, Ind., July 28.—Notwithstanding the serious condition of the mining interests throughout the state, there is a measure of prosperity among the mines and miners at this place. Because of the Grape Creek (Ind.) competition, the miners here, with a few exceptions, are acting independently, of the demands of the federation, and are mining coal at 55 cents per ton. The miners are getting good work and making good wages. The Indiana Bituminous Mining company's No. 3 mine, which has been idle for the past three months, resumed work yesterday with a large number of men, and all, save the men who were "blacklisted," as strike agitators, were put to work. It is thought before the week ends that 200 men will be at work in this mine. The blacklisted men try to make trouble, but no attention is paid to their efforts. As the mines are now running, their payrolls will aggregate $25,000 monthly.

PREACHER SMITH WANTS A DIVORCE Mrs. Smith, He Says, Spread False Reports About Him.

KANSAS CITY, July 28.—The Rev. Joshua Smith filed a petition, in the circuit court at Independence, a suburb, asking divorce from his wife, Nannie Smith, whom, the petition recites, he married at Stillwater, O. T., in April, 1893. The plaintiff alleges that his wife spread the report among his congregation at Stillwater that she was his common law wife. By this act he lost his position. At Oswego she spread similar reports with a like result. In addition he alleges she one day smashed in the windows of their house and threw his valuable theological library into the street. When he tried to pick up the volumes she threatened to shoot him, and he was compelled to call in a policeman.

Killed by Lightning.

ELKHART, Ind., July 28.—Lightning struck the farmhouse of Jacob Heasley, two miles south of here, and instantly killed Miss Katharine Ott, a domestic, while she was lying in bed sleeping. She was 28 years old. The house was damaged considerably. The flagstaff and cupola of the Hotel Bucklen, this city, were also struck by lightning and demolished. Solomon Swartz's house, in the city limits, was struck, and the roof and kitchen torn off. Considerable damage is reported in all the immediate vicinity.

Investigating the Crop Outlook.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 28.—J. W. Johnston and C. F. Smith, two experts sent out by the Chicago board of trade to investigate and report upon the condition of Indiana crops, have begun work at this point. They expect to devote several weeks to the undertaking. The wheat crop of Vigo county will average considerably below half, but the corn promises to be first class, where not drowned out by the recent heavy rains in the river bottoms. Potatoes will be a good crop, but fruit of all kinds is light.

Home From Persia.

ROCKVILLE, Ind., July 28.—The Rev. W. L. Whipple, for many years agent of the American Bible society at Tabriz, Persia, with his family, arrived here on Saturday. It is understood that he will not return, but that he will locate permanently at Duluth, where he will educate his children. Mr. Whipple left his Persian home on the 11th of June, making no unnecessary stops on the way.

Houses Leveled.

CLEVELAND, July 28.—Much damage was done Sunday night by a terrific windstorm. At Euclid Park, just east of the city, eight or nine houses were completely destroyed and a large tabernacle blown down. The loss is estimated at many thousands of dollars. Major Stockman of the local weather bureau reports that the wind reached a velocity of 64 miles an hour.

Receiver Appointed For Third Time.

HAMMOND, Ind., July 28.—A. Murray Turner of this city has been appointed receiver for the East Chicago Iron and Steel company, upon application filed with Judge Gillett of the Lake circuit court. The plant is valued at $200,000, and has debts amounting to nearly $100,000 outstanding. This is the third time the plant has been in the hands of a receiver during the year.

Hard Blaze at Harrodsburg.

HARRODSBURG, Ky., July 28.—A 3 a. m. fire destroyed the two principal business houses, the dry goods and clothing store of John W. Phelps & Company. Loss, $15,000; insurance, $10,000 on stock. T. H. Carter's furniture and hardware store, loss, $8,000; insurance, $5,000 on stock. The houses were owned by Mrs. L. D. Cardwell, loss, $14,000; insurance, $6,000.

Deaths From Heat.

ST. LOUIS, July 28.—The heat in this city for the last two days has been intense, a maximum of 100 degrees in the shade being recorded. There were many prostrations. The fatal cases were those of Mrs. Kate Bryon, aged 28, and William Zeilmann, a carpenter, who died soon after being taken to the hospital. There were several other serious cases.

Church Burned.

MORRISTOWN, Pa., July 28.—The Methodist church at Willow Grove was destroyed by fire yesterday. How the flames started is a mystery. The building was of stone. Loss, $10,000.

ANARCHISTS BARRED

Socialist Trade Congress Has Opened in London.

SEVERAL AMERICAN DELEGATES.

Sensational Scene Follows the Anarchists' Attempt to Storm the Platform—British Independent Party Sides With Them in Their Efforts to Command Recognition. An Important Meeting.

LONDON, July 28.—The fourth International Socialist Trade congress opened in this city yesterday, 800 delegates from all parts of Europe and from the United States, Australia and the Argentine Republic being present. Among the delegates are 160 representatives of British trade unions. Among the American delegates are Lucian Sanial of the Socialist Labor and Trade Alliance; Matthew McGuire, who represents the Socialist-Labor party of New Jersey; H. Bestold, who represents the brewery employes, and M. Dalski.

It is expected that the congress will be more important than those held in Paris in 1889, in Brussels in 1891 and in Zurich in 1893.

The chair was occupied by Mr. Cowey, a Northumberland miner, who made a speech welcoming the foreign delegates. Upon its conclusion the delegates rose and cheered and then sang the Marseillaise, in which the audience joined.

The report of the sectional meetings was read. A large majority of the delegates voted against the admission of anarchists when the question of whether they should be received as delegates was mooted in the plenary congress. The anarchists, who were present with their credentials as trade unionists, insisted upon the right of speaking.

The English and German delegates warmly opposed their being allowed to air their views on any subject before the congress, and clamored for an immediate vote on the question of their expulsion. A prolonged uproar followed, the anarchists and their supporters being apparently determined that they should be received as delegates. The chairman's bell was rung for several minutes in a vain attempt to secure order, both sides shouting at once. Finally the anarchists tried to storm the platform, and then occurred a most disgraceful scene. Their opponents rallied in front of the platform and hurled the anarchists back in fistieuff encounters.

The delegates of the British Independent Labor party sides with the anarchists in their efforts to command recognition.

Mr. James Keir Hardie, who formerly represented the labor party in the house of commons, was conspicuous for his bawling and personal threats against the chairman. It having been found impossible to restore even a semblance of order, the chairman declared the congress adjourned for the day, and ordered the hall to be cleared.

After the adjournment the delegates formed in groups in the street in front of the hall and continued their excited debates for a time. The police, however, did not allow them to talk unmolested, and the groups were continually broken up by the constables who peremptorily ordered them to "move on."

DESPERATE MOTHER'S ACT.

Coolly Drowns Her Two Infant Children and Destroys Herself.

CAMDEN, N. J., July 28.—Mrs. Mary Hermann, 30 years old, of 917 South Fourth street, drowned her two infant children and attempted to drown herself last night in the Delaware river. She tied the hands of one child and the feet of the other and took a large dose of carbolic acid. Then holding a child in each arm, she leaped overboard. Two boatmen saw her jump and dragged her out from the water as she was going down the third time. The children did not reappear on the surface. Mrs. Hermann was taken to the hospital. She can not live. Domestic troubles caused her to wish to die. This was the second attempt she has made to commit suicide. When Mrs. Hermann's husband heard of her crime he attempted to suicide by cutting his throat, but the police wrested the razor out of his hand.

Useful Career Ended.

CHICAGO, July 28.—William Henry Smith, ex-general manager of the Associated Press, who, for more than 30 years, has been conspicuously identified with American journalism, died at his home in Lake Forest at 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning from heart failure, resulting from pneumonia. He had been sick for several days. The funeral will be Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock.

Princess of Wales' Double.

LONDON, July 28.—Mahlon Sands, formerly of New York, died at her residence in this city on Friday of fatty degeneration of the heart. Mrs. Sands bore a striking likeness to the Princess of Wales, with whom she was on very friendly terms. She will be buried in New York by the side of her husband, who was killed a few years ago by being thrown from his horse in Hyde park.

Brings No One to Life.

LONDON, July 28.—The board of trade has decided that the loss of the steamship Drummond Castle, off Ushant on June 16, resulting in the drowning of about 250 persons, only one passenger and two seamen being saved, was due to the fact that she was not navigated with proper, seamanlike care, in view of the prevailing conditions.

REPUBLICANS talk as if they expected an easy time in this campaign, but it is announced that they are "organizing for a vigorous fight." It will not be so easy as they imagined at first.

A MINNEAPOLIS contemporary in sizing up the St. Louis Republican convention, very aptly says:

A Jewish rabbi to open the convention; a millionaire attorney for the Union Pacific Railroad to act as permanent chairman; a millionaire representative of the Coal Trust and the Standard Oil Company (Hanna, of Ohio), for boss; a millionaire St. Paul banker to draw the platform; the banks of New York flooding the leaders with telegrams in favor of gold; Chauncey Depew, the millionaire President of a New York railroad company, a conspicuous figure, and every usurer in the United States supporting the ticket. Are you going to vote for it? That's the question.

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW, just after a good dinner, frequently gets off some good things. He says:

Fifty men of these United States have it in their power, by reason of the wealth which they control, to come together within the next twenty-four hours and arrive at the understanding by which every wheel of trade and commerce may be stopped from revolving, every avenue of trade blocked and every electric key struck dumb. These fifty men can paralyze the whole country, for they control the circulation of the currency and can create a panic whenever they will.

That is true, Chauncey, but next November about 6,000,000 voters in these United States will "paralyze these fifty men," replies the Portsmouth Times.

In his speech to a Foraker club a few days ago Major McKinley denounced the Democratic party for "proposing to enter upon an era of depreciated currency," yet the policy the Democrats now propose is the same, replies the Irononian, which Major McKinley voted for in Congress on November 5, 1887. The Bland bill provided for free silver coinage on the same terms as now demanded by the Democratic platform, and Major McKinley along with Hon. H. S. Neal, of Ironton, who represented that district in Congress at the time, voted for it. The bill passed the House but was amended in the Senate and vetoed by President Hayes. When it came up for passage in the House over the President's veto, Major McKinley again voted for it. Mr. Neal, who has been a Republican, is still for free silver.

Why should American millionaires, especially such gold-clad Democrats as Whitney, Flower and Singerly, Belmont or Carnegie, Rockefeller and others fear a panic through the unloading of American railroad and industrial stock by English holders. The New York Journal reasons in this way:

Would not this great unloading which they predict take the purchasing power in their own hands, and will not the earning capacity of these roads and industries remain the same? Will there be one rail less on the roadways or one brick less in the factories? For the time being values would be real and not fictitious, but that would constitute the millionaire's opportunity to invest. If the European holders of American stocks were such fools as to unload these excellent securities in large quantities, the rich Americans would have an opportunity to secure some very good property at a bargain. The European stockholder, however, is no fool.

BRICE ON BRYAN.

Senator Brice upon being asked his opinion of the Democratic ticket replied:

Bryan's nomination does not surprise me. His nomination was about the wisest one the party could have made. He is a wonderfully strong young man. There is no personal or political scandal attached to his name, and I think he is one of the brightest and best men in the nation. He is not an Anarchist, nor is he a Socialist. However strongly I may be against his financial views, I must concede the fact that some of his arguments are incontrovertible. He is the brainiest man west of the Mississippi. I was in the Senate when he was on the other side of the Capitol. His record in Congress was an enviable one. He had the respect of both parties.

FROM FAR-OFF TRISCO.

Mr. Throop Browning Writes Interestingly From the Pacific Slope.

We extract the following from an interesting letter from Throop Browning, for the past year residing in San Francisco, Cal., to his father, Dr. A. G. Browning, of this city:

As stated in my last, had expected to sail on line Australia noon of 9th. Your letter of 3rd reached me two days before this and changed my plans for the present. While governed by good advice, must say have only postponed, not abandoned the move. Even before leaving Kentucky, 'twas my purpose, as you know, to some day take this trip. Since being in Frisco I've not only been strengthened in this resolve, but have been busily posting myself in the history of those countries in order that I might make my visit a source of real benefit. When, to my surprise, the position I had dreamed of, schemed for, was offered me, I simply yelled with delight, and at once began my preparations. It isn't every time that a young man can make the voyage to Honolulu, Samoan Islands, Australia, China and Japan, and get well paid for the privilege. When taken for pleasure only, this trip will cost fully $500. You must know that to people of the Pacific Coast a voyage to Australia or China amounts to no more than going to New York, to the average Kentuckian: it's only a difference of a few thousand miles, and this we don't count. This position will remain within my easy reach and later on I'll accept it. I think it something to my credit that I was promptly reinstated in the place I too hastily resigned. California is much like the rest of the world, only more so in some respects. To the man with money, opportunities for more are waiting on all sides; more fortunes and larger are made here in shorter time than elsewhere. There is in it, however, more of venture—less of cool calculation, as in the case of "Lucky Baldwin" and many others: 'twill take a long time to remove the peculiar methods of the "forty-niners." To the man of no money—well, the "moneyless man," in any locality, is just what Cousin Henry Stanton has pictured him in immortal lines, and California is far short of a Paradise for such. There's a difference perhaps, and it's like this: I've heard you say that when scratching was the right thing to do, the best thing was to scratch and for all that's out. They do it here, and to better purpose, possibly, than in some places. They simply have to. And if successfully it matters little where or how the scratching is done. The climate, the fruit and the flowers, and a thousand things besides, will go far to reconcile one to much of hardship and struggle. I've thought it something to be privileged to exist in such a country. In the way of climate you'll get every kind within a short distance,—may leave San Francisco in a fog drenching as a heavy rain, with wind driving forty miles an hour, cross the bay seven miles to Alameda, and land amid perpetual sunshine, a wilderness of flowers and fruit, and all the quiet of a morning in May. By the way, Alameda which, with South Berkeley and Oakland, form one continuous suburb, is the most beautiful spot of earth I have ever yet seen. All told, there are not six real business houses in the place,—nothing but handsome residences, with surroundings too lovely for description. The odor of flowers in passing is actually oppressive, and I recognize many varieties grown to trees which in Kentucky were but shrubs at best.

No, after nearly a year here, with not a bit of fun in it, am not thinking of coming back—thinking of nothing but trying, like thousands of others here, to get on in the world. With great love to mamma and Clint, affectionately, THROOP.

River News.

The Sherley for Pomeroy and Virginia for Pittsburg up to-night and Bonanza down.

The Virginia wired Monday morning that she would pass Maysville at 3 p. m., and she came in almost to the minute. She had a big crowd of passengers and a fair freight trip.

The marks here showed a stage of 38½ feet, a rise of about eight inches during the night. It is thought the top of the rise will reach here to-day and that the waters will begin to recede before night. The New and Kanawha are rising, but the water from these streams will hardly keep the Ohio at its present stage.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. # That Tired Feeling

Makes you seem "all broken up," without life, ambition, energy or appetite. It is often the forerunner of serious illness, or the accompaniment of nervous troubles. It is a positive proof of thin, weak, impure blood; for, if the blood is rich, red, vitalized and vigorous, it imparts life and energy to every nerve, organ and tissue of the body. The necessity of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for that tired feeling is therefore apparent to every one, and the good it will do you is equally beyond question. Remember

What is the matter with that well on the corner of Second and Main street? We don't hear anything about it, and we need a little fire protection in that locality.

Some of the costumes worn at the fire Saturday morning were beautiful. One lady had on one shoe and her husband's boot on the other foot, while very few dress shirts were visible.

There came near being a large sized scrap on the ferry boat Saturday morning. Mose Scott, the Deatur hack driver, and Jack Payne, a merchant of Ellsberry, have been at the outs for some time, and meeting on the boat Scott proceeded to abuse Payne, calling him all kinds of unbecoming names and threatening him with his life, holding a dirk knife ready for use. Engineer Ben Campbell, who had charge of the boat at that time, interfered and Scott then threatened to shoot Mr. Campbell but was persuaded not to do so by a hammer which Mr. C. picked up. Mr. Payne tried to keep from getting into trouble and stayed in the engine room while coming across the river. When the boat landed on this side, Marshall Weaver arrested both Payne and Scott, and took them before Mayor Hill who bound them over until to-day when they will have their trial. Both were released on bond.

COOK HUSBANDS, N. P. McCracken County, Ky.

we have the consolation to know that tobacco is doing fully as well in proportion to any other product of the soil.

The future is not favorable for any better prices for this great staple until there is a general revival of all branches of trade, and from the present outlook, that is some distance in the future. Therefore the tobacco trade can only accept the situation and do the best they can, which they are doing at present by selling and accepting the prices. Our market fluctuates largely in prices, one sales day being satisfactory, while perhaps the next day the buyers will show carelessness and prices will decline and cause the sellers to reject, and then, with more activity, they will advance and become firm again.

The past week has been a continuation of the past month, and with only moderate sales there appears to be no change in prices, only when fluctuating. There has been more active bidding for color, and some fancy hogheads have done exceedingly well, but the general run of the tobacco has shown no change in prices, and with the general impression that the growing crop will be a good one, it is causing the owners of the old crop to accept the sales very liberally.

The reports from the country are not so encouraging as they were some time ago. The incessant rains are no doubt, doing a great deal of damage at this time, and if they continue much longer the crop will be damaged quite seriously, but we are in hopes the weather will become more favorable and the crop will be housed in good condition.

There has been a full quota of buyers on the market, who appear willing to purchase at the low prices, and occasionally show considerable competition in bidding. We are in hopes our market will remain firm the coming week.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite, and gives refreshing sleep.

BLUE GRASS LEAGUE.

It Was Organized Monday at Lexington. Opening Games August 7th—Maysville Won Yesterday.

The Blue Grass League of Base Ball Clubs was organized at Lexington Monday afternoon with the following four cities as members: Maysville, Paris, Mt. Sterling and Lexington.

Louis H. Ramsey, of Lexington, was elected President and W. S. Williams also of Lexington, Secretary.

The following representatives were present: Manager Cox, Maysville; Manager Shinnars, Paris; L. H. Ramsey, Lexington; W. S. Williams, representing J. M. Isola, Manager of the Mt. Sterling club.

The schedule will be arranged at once, says the Leader, and the season will open next week and close in September, probably the third week. Each club will play about four games a week. The Leader has offered a pennant to be awarded the championship club.

Rules for the government of the league were discussed and adopted and will be published soon. One special rule is in regard to contracts. No player can "jump" his contract with one club and play with another in the league.

Two umpires will be appointed and they will be fair, capable and honest.

The opening games will probably be Paris at Lexington August 7 and 8, Maysville at Mt. Sterling August 7 and 8.

"Off days" will probably be used for games with Knoxville and other independent clubs.

At the close of the championship series a game will be arranged between the champions and either Louisville or Cincinnati.

The Maysvilles will not be satisfied without that pennant, and with Leever, Newton and Shepard to do the twirling it will take wonderful work to beat us out of it.

Syrup of Figs

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.
